Step through the front door and you're immediately welcomed by a naturally light and inviting entrance hall, setting the tone for this characterful home. The ground floor provides two generous double bedrooms, both offering useful storage, together with a modern family bathroom. A door from this level leads directly outside, making the garden easily accessible and particularly practical for families, guests and those who enjoy spending time outdoors.

Upstairs is the real heart of The Mews. A spacious open-plan kitchen, dining and sitting room creates a fantastic social space, with plenty of room to cook, dine, relax and entertain. The well-equipped kitchen features generous work surfaces, an integral fridge, oven and electric hob, while the adjoining living area benefits from dual-aspect windows that fill the room with natural light and frame the lovely countryside views.

A woodburner adds warmth and character, creating a cosy focal point during the cooler months and making the property an inviting year-round retreat. The combination of open-plan living and rural views gives the first floor a particularly relaxed and spacious feel.

Outside, the garden is a real highlight. A raised patio provides an ideal spot for morning coffee, evening drinks or al fresco dining, while steps lead down to a mature, fully enclosed lawned garden. Offering a good degree of privacy, the garden is well suited to families, pets, entertaining or simply enjoying the tranquillity of the surrounding countryside.

The Mews also offers genuine flexibility. Its comfortable accommodation and attractive setting make it well suited to holiday letting, while the practical layout and peaceful surroundings would equally appeal to those seeking a permanent home or Cornish escape.

Chain free and full of character, The Mews represents an excellent opportunity to secure a versatile property in a peaceful rural setting, with the added appeal of a private garden, countryside views and strong lifestyle potential.
