Old Printers Apartment, Church Walk, Torrington, Devon, EX38 8HS

There are some properties that simply have a feel about them the moment you walk through the door, and this beautifully renovated apartment in Great Torrington is certainly one of them. Stylish, individual and full of character, this is a home that has been lovingly transformed by the current vendors with a real eye for detail and design.

From the outside, the property immediately catches your attention. The crisp white rendered exterior, complemented by the black-framed windows, gives the building a smart, contemporary appearance and sets the tone for what awaits inside. This is not your typical apartment and, from the very first glance, it is clear that the current owners have created something a little bit special.

One of the real pleasures of this property is that you have your own private entrance. Stepping inside, you are greeted by a beautifully presented entrance hall, where the striking tiles instantly grab your attention. They provide a fantastic introduction to the style and personality of the apartment and are a lovely example of the thought that has gone into the renovation.

The entrance hall is also incredibly practical, with an additional front door providing access to the hall and offering a particularly useful area for bike storage. For those looking for a home that works just as well in everyday life as it looks, this is a great feature.

Also accessed from the entrance hall is the downstairs bathroom. This is a lovely-sized room and has been finished to a high standard, with a smart and stylish presentation that continues the theme found throughout the rest of the property. It is a really useful addition and makes the accommodation particularly versatile.

From here, the blue staircase leads you upstairs, and this is where the apartment really starts to impress.

On the first floor you will find the master bedroom, which is a fantastic size and enjoys a lovely outlook. It is a room that feels calm and comfortable, with plenty of space for a good-sized bed and additional furniture, while the outlook adds another layer of appeal.

But for me, the real wow factor of this apartment has to be the open-plan living space.

This is the room that stopped me in my tracks.

The huge window draws your eye immediately, opening up the most stunning view across the surrounding Torrington countryside. It is one of those views that you could quite happily sit and look at for hours, and it gives the room a wonderful sense of space and connection with the landscape beyond.

The amount of natural light flooding into this room is fantastic. Combined with the vaulted ceiling, it creates a wonderfully spacious and airy feel, while the painted beams add warmth, character and a real sense of individuality.

The current vendors have clearly spent a great deal of time and effort getting this room just right. The layout has been carefully considered to create a genuinely sociable open-plan space, with a well-designed kitchen, room for a dining table and a comfortable area for a sofa. Whether you are enjoying a quiet morning coffee while taking in the view, entertaining friends or simply relaxing at the end of the day, this is a room that really works.

And that is perhaps what makes this apartment so appealing. It is stylish without feeling overdone, full of character without compromising on practicality, and it is a space that you can genuinely imagine living in.

The attention to detail throughout is evident, from the striking hallway tiles and blue staircase through to the painted beams, contemporary finishes and carefully considered use of colour. It has personality, and lots of it.

The apartment is currently being successfully used as an Airbnb, which gives the property an exciting degree of flexibility. It has clearly proven itself as an attractive place for visitors to stay, but equally, the vendors are happy to sell the property fully furnished, meaning a new owner could potentially move in and enjoy it from day one, subject of course to the usual arrangements.
