

The background of the image is a close-up photograph of autumn leaves. The leaves are in various stages of color change, ranging from bright yellow to deep orange and red. Some leaves are in sharp focus, showing their veins and serrated edges, while others are blurred in the background. A semi-transparent white rectangular box is centered in the middle of the image, containing the text 'BARON LANE' in a bold, black, sans-serif font. The text is arranged in two lines: 'BARON' on the top line and 'LANE' on the bottom line. Each letter is contained within its own black square, creating a grid-like appearance.

With a name steeped in history and culture, the archaic site of Baron Lane honourably commemorates the prestigious castles which once stood in this place. Dating back to Norman construction in the late 12th century, Belfast's first Castle reflected prestige and nobility. The historic association with this site continued to prevail with the construction of a second impressive Castle in 1611 by the respected Sir Arthur Chichester, Baron of Belfast. Almost a century later, this influential landmark sadly burned down, leaving behind only street names to mark its position. Today, with the development of Baron Lane, this integral part of Belfast history and culture still remains, highlighting the prominent landmarks which resided in this scenic area.
