Offers over £530,000

I am thrilled to introduce this newly constructed new build home that spans 2,690sq ft. Nestled in the picturesque Ballycolin Road area, this luxurious residence is perched on an elevated site, offering breath taking views of Belfast and the Mourne Mountains. With the sun rising in front of the property, and setting to the rear it is without a doubt one of the best homes available in this location.

Leading up to the property you drive up a new sweeping tarmac driveway with with contemporary wall lighting and an area for plants. The outside is extremely impressive.

A fitting entrance to this impressive property was also a must for the developer. He wanted the entrance to Wow the new owners so he has created an entrance hall that features an impressive double height, vaulted ceiling with large feature window, showcasing the spectacular views.
