Positioned on the fringes of the charming and historic market town of Great Torrington, this substantial end-of-terrace period property offers the perfect blend of space, character, and modern convenience. From its wealth of original features to its long garden and parking, this is a home that combines timeless appeal with practical family living. With ample living space and a desirable location, this property offers a fantastic opportunity to live in a thriving community while enjoying the comforts of a well-appointed home.

Stepping inside, you are immediately greeted by a sense of warmth and tradition as the original patterned tile floor welcomes you in the home. The accommodation is both spacious and versatile, with two well-proportioned reception rooms providing ideal spaces for formal entertaining or relaxed family gatherings. High ceilings, period detailing, and large windows create a wonderful sense of light and character throughout. The front lounge benefits from a beautiful bay window while the room focuses around gas fireplace, perfect for the Devon winters. The rear living room also benefits from a gas fireplace. While the living room is currently set up as an additional reception room, it could suit perfectly for those wanting a separate dining room. At the heart of the home, the kitchen/diner offers the perfect setting for day-to-day living, with ample room for family meals and entertaining guests, while the adjoining utility room ensures additional storage space and access to the downstairs W/C. The kitchen itself boasts plenty of cabinet and worktop space while enjoying a breakfast bar in the middle.

Upstairs, the property continues to impress with four double bedrooms, each offering an abundance of space and character, making them perfectly suited for family life or for those seeking the flexibility of a home office or guest accommodation. The master bedroom to the front takes advantage of the bay window alongside the window seat. Bedroom two continues the character showing off its feature Victorian style fireplace. Both bedroom two and three feature oval sinks above a vanity unit with windows to the rear overlooking the distant countryside. Bedroom four is currently set up as a dressing room however it has been used as double bedroom before. The family four-piece bathroom, featuring a roll top bath, double shower, sink with vanity unit below and toilet, is designed with both comfort and functionality in mind, providing a relaxing retreat at the end of a busy day. To further enhance the upstairs space, the property benefits from a loft room perfect for a multitude of uses. If having a home office, hobbies room or play room is on the wish list, you can't beat the space provided here. The Velux window brings an even better outlook to the rear countryside view.

Externally, this fine home offers just as much appeal. A long, established garden extends to the rear, providing a tranquil outdoor haven with plenty of room for children to play, for keen gardeners to enjoy, or for al fresco dining during the warmer months. The workshop at the rear takes advantage of electrics giving the perfect space for anyone needing outdoor storage. Beyond the garden, the property boasts private parking for up to four vehicles—a rare advantage for a home of this era and one that greatly enhances its convenience.
