Overview

Situated in the picturesque and sought-after village of Ashwater, this delightful two-bedroom period cottage—believed to date back over 100 years—beautifully combines traditional character with modern comforts.

The superbly presented accommodation includes a well-appointed kitchen positioned at the front of the property, featuring an attractive range of wall and base units, a ceramic one-and-a-half bowl sink, built-in oven with hob and extractor, and an integrated dishwasher. A sash window provides a lovely outlook over the village centre, while a feature fireplace with a wood-burning stove creates a warm and welcoming focal point.

The spacious living area exudes charm, boasting an impressive inglenook fireplace with a wood-burning stove. A thoughtfully designed rear extension offers additional living space, filled with natural light and overlooking the charming enclosed courtyard.

Upstairs, there are two bedrooms, both full of period character. The principal bedroom features an original cast iron fireplace, while the second bedroom enjoys outstanding views across the surrounding countryside and towards the village church tower. The two rooms share a well-presented 'Jack and Jill' shower room.

Externally, the property benefits from a private, enclosed courtyard garden and convenient off-road parking for 2 vehicles to the front.
