A well established and successfully trading public house for sale as a going concern to include licence goodwill fixtures and fittings, for sale due to retirement, after around 50 years in the business.

Price includes liquor licence. offers for alternative use without licence will be considered.

The Hertford Arms occupies a prominent location on the one way system within Lisburn city centre.

It presently trades as a licenced public house and occupies a large site offering huge potential to develop the leisure offering further perhaps for a combined restaurant and bar use. The licence permits the sale of 'intoxicating liquor either in or off the premises'.

The business has a loyal clientele and generates a steady annual turnover. Trading accounts will only be provided on email application to ed@falloonestateagents.com.

The property presently has both the main public bar and an extensive first floor lounge area, with separate toilet provision on each level. There is oil fired heating and the public bar has a brick fireplace and cosy open fire.
