SUMMARY

Historical journals record the main building from circa 1770 in arguably the most distinctive period of architecture, and an era characterised by symmetry, balance and proportion. A sensitive approach to Georgian heritage respects and preserves the buildings strong and genteel presence, and where possible original features remain intact or have been reinstated.

This first floor apartment consists of an open plan living space, with luxury fitted kitchen and dining space. There are two good sized bedrooms, bedroom one benefits from an ensuite shower room and there is also a main bathroom. It has been tastefully refurbished retaining all the original features where possible yet benefits from modern day requirements.

Donaghadee is a place which offers a seamless indoor and outdoor lifestyle, from a cosy fireside meal to bracing coastal walks with views over the Copeland Islands and out to the Scottish coast. The town is renowned for its culinary credentials and boasts some of Ireland's top food and drinks venues. For those who enjoy the outdoor activities, Donaghadee has a wide variety of options including an eighteen-hole golf course and lawn tennis club. Naturally, the stunning shoreline provides an array of water-based pursuits such as sailing, paddle-boarding and kayaking and the town has a seawater swimming club which has become immensely popular over the past few years. The coastal culture that Donaghadee offers is perfect to relax and unwind or to restore and invigorate, all of which are essential elements of physical and mental wellbeing.
