

The Owner's Perspective...

"We have loved living in Seahill over the last number of years. Since we first purchased the property we have sought to take what was a blank canvas in terms of internal fitout and transform the interiors to create a unique and characterful series of spaces. Each space is individually considered from an interior design perspective, whilst ensuring that there is a harmony and flow throughout the the house. We extended the property in 2017 to create a flexible kitchen, dining and snug area which connected more directly to the garden through the floor to ceiling glazing. This idea of a creating a series of separate but interconnected spaces carries through to the garden design, which has been approached as a sequence of external garden 'rooms'. The house has been built to a high standard – from the increased levels of insulation, to the specification of windows and doors – and is really easy to heat. The installation of underfloor heating throughout the ground floor also creates a warm and comfortable environment and avoids the interruption of radiators in each space. Should it be required, the roof space could be converted to provide additional rooms via a full staircase from the first floor landing area. As a place to live, we have found Seahill to be remarkably quiet and peaceful, although it is only a few minutes journey from the main arterial routes between Bangor and Belfast. We have also really enjoyed having the train so close by, particularly for commuting, and providing access to schools. We look forward to passing on this home to the next family who we trust will enjoy living here as much as we have."

Additional information

In accordance with the European Performance of Buildings Directive, all property being marketed For Sale or To Rent must have an Energy Performance Certificate (EPC). The rating establishes the efficiency of a property and what steps could be undertaken to improve its performance in an effort to reduce energy consumption and associated carbon dioxide emissions. There is no 'pass' or 'fail' level.

An EPC currently has a 'life' of 10 years and becomes part of the documents associated with that property. It can be transferred on completion of sale to the new owner(s) and would normally only be superseded by a new assessment after energy saving improvements have been carried out.

A copy of the EPC and Recommendation Report must be available to any interested party. The full Report can be viewed via our web site rodgersandbrowne.co.uk.

ENERGY EFFICIENCY RATING (EPC)

From 23rd September 2022 property purchased up to £250,000 is exempt from Stamp Duty Land Tax (SDLT) unless it is purchased as a second home, in which case the 3% override will still apply.

Homes sold in excess of £250,000 will pay SDLT on a sliding scale. There are exemptions for first time purchasers where no Stamp Duty is payable up to £625,000.

Please contact your own legal adviser with any queries.
