Perfect for downsizing, this well-presented semi detached bungalow offers compact, easily managed accommodation of a practical layout and boasts low outgoings and the minimum of upkeep.

Well maintained and tastefully decorated, this home is ready for immediate occupation and any eventual buyer will appreciate its pleasant aspect and semi rural position.

The property sits on generous corner site for which full planning permission has been granted for an additional new build detached villa. This provides an opportunity for an individual to invest for the future, develop the site, or sell off the site to recoup some of the initial purchase price.

It is an excellent opportunity of course for a developer/builder to purchase a "ready to go" project in the garden and a bungalow which would make an excellent buy to let investment.

This property offers so much potential for a range of purchasers.
